Wherever wrong is done
To the humblest and the weakest
Neath the all-beholding sun,
That wrong is also done to us,

Iowa Institution.

Council Bluffs Nonpareil.

State Architect Henry F. Liebhe of the Iowa board of control, was in Council Bluffs the last week conferring with Superintendent Henry W. Rother of the Iowa School for the Deaf in regard to plans for the new buildings temporarily replace the burned main building. It is expected that about $25,000 will be expended for the erection of these structures which will have to stand at least three or four years, until the next session of the legislature makes an appropriation for the permanent buildings. While the plans for the new buildings have been drawn, they will not be definitely decided on until the bid are received, which will be very shortly, and it is desired to have the school ready for opening in every department by the first of October, when the next school year commences. Superintendent Rother's present idea, which has been approved by the board of control is to use the school house as a dormitory for the girls and lady teachers, and the industrial school building as a dormitory for the boys. This has been the arrangement since the fire, and it is believed to be the safest and most practical one. By so doing the dormitories will be in substantial brick buildings, practically fire proof, and easily heated during the winter. The present gymnasium will be used as a chapel. With this arrangement the only new buildings now necessary will be a school house, a dining room and study rooms and a cottage for the bachelors. The temporary structures, which necessarily cannot be made fully fire proof, would be in use only in day time when escape could easily be made. The bachelor members of the faculty are expected to be well able to look out for themselves even in a temporary frame cottage. These new buildings can all be constructed during the summer months, so that October, the opening day of the fall term, will find the institution in no way handicapped by the recent fire which destroyed the main building, valued at $250,000.

AS IF NOTHING HAD HAPPENED.

Even now, except for the crumbling walls of the big main building, a visitor at the Iowa School for the Deaf, would hardly know that it had only a month ago suffered a calamity, which for some time threatened to put an end to the school. The dormitories in the school house and the industrial school are now fully supplied with the handsome, white enamel, brass mounted bedsteads furnished by the board of control. These beds, together with the mattresses, pillows, blankets and linen, cost the state $20 each. A new roof has been placed over the kitchen and necessary repairs have been completed in the officers' and teachers' dining room above the kitchen. A complete set of new knives, forks, spoons and dishes, have been received for the pupils dining room which was destroyed. With the recent homing of the smaller pupils, all the class rooms on the second floor of the school house were vacated and now afford most comfortable sleeping quarters for the girls of the older classes who remain. The school rooms on the first floor of the same building remain undisturbed as recitation rooms for all older girls and boys, thus preserving the routine of the school as if nothing had happened. The vault which stood intact in the center of the burned building, though at the time of the fire, a month ago today, it was surrounded for hours by a raging furnace of flames, was opened for the first time last week and the contents found to be unharmed. The delay in opening the vault was due to the fact that the door was on the second floor and considerable trouble was experienced in prying open the big iron door. It contained considerable money and jewelry belonging to the teachers and officers of the institution and its opening was the cause of rejoicing when the treasure came forth only blackened from the smoke. The teachers at the school have also had reason to rejoice over the decision of Attorney General Mullan, who declared recently that the state must pay them a full years salary regardless of the fact that they will not in some cases be employed for the full time of their contract, by reason of the fire.

PITTSBURG, PA.

The fourth of June has come and gone, and along with it an event not soon to be forgotten. It will go on record in the annals of the Pittsburgh Chapter of the Gallaudet College Alumni Association as a memorable event—an event in the form of a banquet given by the Gallaudet College graduates in honor of Superintendent William N. Burt. It was a grand success, and the Committee on Banquet, Frank A. Leitner, '90 (Chairman), John S. Fisher, '01, and Emma M. Prager, '00, are therefore congratulated for their pains in endeavoring to make it so.

On account of his experience, (having been at several banquets before) Mr. Frank Gray, (though Gray has not a single gray hair) as toastmaster of toast ceremonies assisted in making the occasion one replete with laughter.

After the banquet was successfully and satisfactorily carried out, the majority must have gone home contented with the increase of a pound or two to their weight, for all certainly enjoyed the occasion immensely.

At the foot of the table there were five empty seats, and for these G. M. Teegarden, '76, gave an appropriate toast, which the empty seats enjoyed hugely.

The banquet was held at the Hotel Boyer.

The menu and list of toasts, which is here given, was printed in gold ink on a beautiful card folder.

Rumor is current to the effect that the boys of the Western Pennsylvania Institution will have a new Supervisor in the person of Mr. Grimm, '96, of Philadelphia, next Fall. Mr. B. R. Allabough, who has been Supervisor for about ten years, will be on the corps of teachers.

Mr. Charles F. Ott, Jr., will, on the 11th inst., declare emphatically that the blessedness of singleness is not in it with the blessedness of couplehood. Not being satisfied with conducting a living with but one half, he has already gotten a marriage license to allow a hearing lady in the person of Miss Margaret Bohn, to add her half to his in order to make one or the other whole.

Felix Hogenmiller, of Greensburg, is said to have agreed with Mr. Ott, and he too will join matrimonial hall hand in hand with Miss Sadie Hurst, on the 18th inst. Congratulations.

On the first Saturday in August there will be a picnic at Kennywood Park to be conducted under the auspices of the Pennsylvania Society for the Advancement of the Deaf.

On the 14th of the same month, the Reformed Presbyterian Church will give a picnic, at Cascade Park, New Castle, Pa., to which the deaf are most cordially invited.

It seems from these, the deaf of Western Pennsylvania this Summer will have more than one chance to meet each other and have some amusement.

GALLAUDET COLLEGE.

Faculty Wins the Tennis Tournament.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Events of the Closing College Days.

From our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 9, 1902.—The Tennis tournament which began last Monday ended Saturday. The Faculty, represented by Profs. Ely and Hall, are the victors. The class of 1903 came second. That class was represented by Hewelson and Cowley. Drake and Hendricks played for 1904, Phelps and Long for 1905, and Northern, Waters and Carpenter for 1902. The rank of the classes stood in the above order.

The co-eds have also had a tournament on the Fays' court. There were about fifteen entries. Miss Ritchie, '03, Miss McGregor, '03, and Miss Patterson are tied.

Gerald McCarthy, '87, has sent Prof. Draper a pamphlet on silk culture, prepared by himself. He is a Biologist of the North Carolina Department of Agriculture. Several students read it with interest. Silk culture is a good occupation for the deaf.

Prof. Hotchkiss got on invitation to the first annual banquet of the Pittsburgh Chapter of the Gallaudet College Alumni Association, as guest of honor. Were it possible he would gladly skip for the Smoky City.

The Seniors had charge of the Concert last Sunday afternoon, the 8th. Dr. Gallaudet vacated the chair, and Mr. Andree took charge. Misses DeLong, Bauman, and Messrs. Clark, Steidman, Andree and Schneider spoke on the subject "Aim." After this it was voted to send the money contributed during the year, and amounting to about forty-one dollars, to where it was most needed. One-third goes to Mrs. Mills' School, at Chefoo, China; another third to the Adult Deaf Mission, of Paris, France; and the next third to Miss Pettit, of Kentucky, who is laboring among the ignorant mountaineers of that State.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 16, 1902.—Next Wednesday the collegiate year of 1901-1902 comes to an end. The results of the examinations will be given out, the graduates receive their degrees, and all begin to depart for home or other places. As we are obliged to leave soon, this will consequently be our last college budget, to the great relief of Pach, Smith, Caldwell, McClure, etc., etc. We will no longer be the cause of the kicking, wailing and gnashing of teeth of many JOURNAL readers, but depart with much sorrow into oblivion. Others may come and do better or worse, but whichever it be, we will be contented if the incidents of college life in the future are reported as faithfully and interestingly as we have always tried to do.

Examinations began last Friday and end to-morrow. So every one is cramming, and none are more anxious for the results than the Seniors.

H. D. Drake, '04, had an experience on the anniversary of his birth that he will not forget for many moons. He was taken bodily from the dining room out near the Kendall School, and a whole pail full of water gently poured over him. The co-eds and others were interested spectators. That same evening he got into hot water, and was vigorously pursued by his tormentors, headed by J. C. Wine-miller, '04, who, however, failed to capture him. It was not barren of results, for Drake is now limping around with a bruised leg and arm, occasioned by his jumping out of windows, into holes and darkened places. It is seldom that the anniversary of one's birth is celebrated in such a way.

The Seniors are celebrating their last days at college by spinning tops on the asphalt walks and driveways.

Harry G. Long, '05, being a great admirer of the class of 1902, decided to give them a treat to ice-cream and assorted cakes. The ice-cream was of two sorts, crimson and white, the class colors. The dainties were partaken of last Tuesday evening. This was something unusual and entirely unexpected, but greatly appreciated.

Mr. Ernest Zell, art teacher in the Ohio School, and brother of Miss Ethel Zell, of the Senior Class, is spending the closing days of college here. He will leave for New York City, Wednesday, to study art for a month or so under a well-known artist on Long Island.

There was a water-melon party upon the fourth floor last Friday evening, the delicious fruit being furnished by one of the Ducks. There were other happenings besides.

The class picture which 1902 intends presenting to the "Lit." has just arrived and the frame will be procured in a day or two, and when it hangs in the Lyceum it will be the finest in the whole collection.

This evening Dr. Gallaudet is to give a farewell tea to the members of the Senior Class, and a few invited friends.

The past few days every one in the city has been suffering from the intense heat. What makes it more uncomfortable are the examinations and we are inclined to think many failures will result therefrom.

Shirt-waists are now the fad. They are worn in the dining room and other places. The enthusiasts, after strenuous efforts, have succeeded.

The following members of the Senior Class have secured positions for next year:

Miss Elizabeth De Long has been appointed to the position of teacher in the Utah School, her duties beginning in the fall.

Horace B. Waters will sway the rod over the boys in the Minnesota School. In addition, he will encourage athletics and perhaps play football.

Thomas Y. Northern goes to the Colorado School in September, to become boys' supervisor and also to stimulate interest in athletic sports. George W. Andree will resume his studies in civil engineering at the Georgia Technical School, besides earning money as football coach for next season.

Ezra C. Wyand has secured a position as teacher in the Maryland School with a pretty big salary to start with.

William J. Geiffuss is to supervise the boys in the North Carolina School, at Morgantown, the following school year.

Lester G. Rosson is to lead a baseball career. He has already been offered a position as pitcher with the Albany, N. Y., team, but prefers to wait a better opportunity as he has won a reputation.

William M. Strong goes to Council Bluffs, Iowa, to become a book-keeper in a machine factory, where he is to remain till about January, when he takes up the management of his father's farm.

George Schaefer will work in a printing office while awaiting some better opportunity for advancement.

Misses Zell and McGregor intend to remain at home and work at housekeeping.

The other members have nothing definite in view at present. Readers may hear of them later on.

Ernest Draper attempted to wrest the tennis championship from Dr. Ely last Friday, but failed. The game, however, was very interesting.

Arthur Steidemann, '02, is enjoying the company of his brother from St. Louis. He expects to remain three days.

The Ohio students were greatly surprised to see Leonce Odebrecht yesterday afternoon. He teaches the first class in the Ohio School, and is greatly liked by all the Ohioans. He will spend a short time in Washington, after which he goes to New York, also for a brief stay.

Rev. Job Turner showed up yesterday afternoon.

President Gallaudet delivered the baccalaureate sermon to the Seniors Sunday afternoon, when it was fearfully hot.

W. F. SCHNEIDER.

PROCTOR'S THEATRES.

Proctor's Newark Theatre will continue to present refined vaudeville through the summer, with the probability of light opera later on. The Proctor Stock Company may be introduced in the fall. Reserved sections of orchestra, 50 and 75 cents; unreserved portion, 25 cents; entire balcony, 25 cents, and gallery, 10 cents.

Proctor's Twenty-third Street will continue its excellent bills of ideal Summer vaudeville. There is always diversity and excellence in the numbers presented and the performances are continuous from noon till nearly midnight.

At the Fifth Avenue, the Proctor Stock Company will present "Captain Swift," with E. Bell appearing in the role created by Maurice Barrymore. Other favorites actively engaged in the presentation will be Beatrice Morgan, Florence Leslie, Mrs. Ada Levick, Helen Sallinger, Frederic Truesdell, Wm. Gerald and Fred Strong, with vaudeville between acts.

Up in Harlem the One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street's offering will be "The New Boy," with Frederic Bond, general stage director of the Proctor Stock Co., playing the leading role. Adelaide Keim will be the leading lady of the company which will include Bessie Lea Listina, Bijou Washburn, Sol Aiken and James Castle. Souvenir matinees. There will be the usual liberal supply of good vaudeville.

Manager Proctor has in press a pretty folder, illustrated with pictures of the leading members of the Proctor Stock Co., which will soon be issued to patrons of his various theatres.

On June 10th, E. Limberg, of Calverton, a deaf-mute, was instantly killed at Riverhead, L. I., while walking on the track, by the eastbound Long Island Railroad mail train.

FAN WOOD.

Annual Coaching Trip to City Island.

FUN AND FISHING.

Vacation Notes.

(From the Regular Correspondent.)

With the first signs of the morning of Thursday, June 12th, those who had been in the folds of Morpheus came to life again. The event of the day was the annual Outing and Tally-Ho of the Protean Society. The first member out of bed was Cadet Sergeant F. Berger, who could not sleep at all through the night, because his thoughts dwelt on the coming morning. He at once aroused all the rest of the members, who were up in less than no time, and at the windows a second later. The evening before there were thunderstorms, and the members were downcast, for they thought the rain would continue to the morning, and so this was the reason they went to the windows. It had ceased raining, but a dense fog had settled thick all around, but the members did not give up hope, and so dressed themselves and were soon out of doors.

The fog began to lift at about half-past six and at seven o'clock the sun began to shine, sending joy to the hearts of all. Soon after breakfast, all hustled to their rooms and when they appeared again, were all dressed in their neat white duck trousers and in uniform coats. Now all they had to do was to wait until the arrival of the drag, from Prior's Stables, which came rumbling up to the Institution at nine o'clock. After several snap-shots had been taken, all were ready for the start and were soon on their way to City Island, where they had planned to spend the day. On the front seat were, Messrs. C. W. Van Tassel, and two drivers, behind were Cadets E. Berg, Silvermond, Berger, Solomon, A. Berg, Seelig, Powell, Zwofke, Renner and Stern, and Mr. E. A. Hodgson.

The trip was made in quick time, embracing a short stop at Bronx Park. Upon arrival at City Island, all sat down to luncheon, at the Bay View Hotel. After lunch the members were at liberty to do as they pleased. All preferred boating and fishing, and all the afternoon was spent on the water, and a good haul of fish resulted from their labor. In all there were from about twenty to twenty-five pounds of fish caught, which consisted of perch, blue fish and bass. On returning to the hotel, all were photographed with the fish, some of the members were suffering from the rays of "Old Sol" and so made an impressive picture. At six-thirty dinner was served, and after that all retired to the bowling alleys, where two teams were made up under the captainship of Cadets Powell and Zwofke, the game being won by the former's team by a small margin. This put an end to the pleasures of the day, for it was time to start for home, which was begun with the tooting of horns and waving of handkerchiefs by the members and patrons of the hotel.

The home ride was very lovely under a moonlight sky and fine cool refreshing air. The drag arrived at Fanwood about eleven o'clock, where the members were welcomed back by Principal Currier and some of the teachers, and then bidding each other good-night all retired after having had one of the most happy times that they ever had.

On Friday morning, June 13th, the annual meeting of the Protean Society took place. After the meeting, which lasted for about half an hour, in which time much business was transacted, the members prepared for their homes to spend the vacation until the Fall, when all will return again.

Principal and Mrs. Currier, taking Harry Cornell, their butler, left for their country home in Essex, on Friday morning, where they will remain until the Fall.

The printing office force, which will bring out the JOURNAL during the summer months, while the pupils are absent, will consist of Messrs. Silvermond, Lautenberger, Tanzas and Stern.

The boys' tutor, Bert Gariss, left for his home on a month's vacation on Saturday morning last.

Work on repairing various places at the Institution that need it, began on Friday morning, as soon as most of the pupils and teachers had departed for their homes.

The photograph gallery of De Young's, at Broadway and 17th Street, is the attraction of the boys at the present time. The ones to have their photographs taken thus far are Captain Zwofke, and Cadet Sergeants Berg and Seelig. Rockwood's gallery is also doing something for the pupils, for the Basketball team and Captain W. Renner, have had sittings.

Miss H. C. Hall, one of our lady teachers, will sail for Europe in a few weeks from now. She is at present at her home in Providence, R. I. We hope she will have a pleasant voyage.

The first one to plan a summer trip so far, is our tutor C. W. Van Tassel. After having had a fine day's fishing at City Island, with the Protean Society, at their recent tally-ho, he has planned to go again soon to try his luck in the same way.

Cadet O. Loew, in company with his parents, left for their summer home at Long Branch, on Monday last.

Morris Ketchum Jesup, President of the Chamber of Commerce, and also Vice-President of this Institution, received the Honorary degree of Doctor of Laws, from Princeton University, on June 11th.

Editor Hodgson was among the attendant sat the Polo Grounds on Friday afternoon. He was the guest of Mr. William Hoy, the crack deaf-mute outfielder of the Cincinnati Club of the National League. In the game that he was a witness, Mr. Hodgson saw the New Yorks trounced by the visiting team by the score of 7 to 5.

Miss E. Black, one of the girl tutors, has charge of the force that is cleaning out the various rooms in the School building.

Night Supervisors Hanson and Davies are taking alternate nights off until the fifth of July, when either one or the other will leave for a month's vacation.

The warm spell that continues, at the present time, seems to cast itself heavily on Miss Alice Judge. In the cool weather no one can do so much as she can, but now-a-days she can only be sending the air every where but to her face by the use of a fan. Why not try an electric fan?

Misses May Hoffman and Mary Tanzas are spending their spare time in looking over the various pictures of the "Gibson Girl," in a book, presented to the latter, by the school, for the best girl in drawing among the higher classes.

Messrs. A. Reiff, E. Moeslein and C. Sanford, with a lady companion were visitors at Fanwood on Sunday last.

ST. LOUIS.

The St. Louis Gallaudet Union Picnic, given at Hahagen's Park, was a success. A shower, early in the morning, cooled the air, and the day was what any one would desire for a picnic.

Quite a large crowd turned out to enjoy the day, and most of them stayed as late as 10 P.M., to see a balloon ascension and parachute jump, which is a frequent occurrence at that park.

The baseball game, scheduled to take place in the morning, was put off until after the races, so that those who could not lay off for the entire day, but would have to work only until noon, could take part in the game.

The game started at a late hour, and only five innings were played. The game was full of excitement, but not interesting, owing to too much dispute with the umpire. The Illinois nine went to bat first, and in the fifth inning, the score was 9 to 6 in favor of Illinois. But in the final inning, by a batting rally and errors the Missouri nine managed to get four more runs, winning the game by 10 to 9, there being only two outs when the winning run was made.

The races started at 2 P.M. The following are the races, winners and prizes awarded:

50 Yards Dash (boys under 12)—Oscar Bloom, Baseball mitt.
Hopping Contest (girls under 12)—Elsie Knight, Box of candy.
Three-legged-race—Messrs. Wooten and Hunter, Pair of garters.
Egg Race—Ettie Harden. Fan.
Sack Race—John Cloud. Pocket knife.
50 Yards Dash (girls under 12)—Mary Cloud. Bottle of perfume.
Doughnut Eating Contest—Mrs. P. J. Schulte. Cream sugar set.
Handkerchief Race—Salma Schriber. Purse.
Sewing Contest—Chas. D. Jones, Pair of suspenders.
Hat trimming Contest—Chas. Kilpatrick. Pocket knife.
Cake Walk—Miss Weiser and Mr. Kilpatrick. Cake.

Mr. Hugh Gates, of Decatur, Ill., was the guest of Mr. Aug. J. Rodenberger for several days last week, and he was a very great help to the Illinois nine, doing excellent work as catcher, and also at bat. He got one week's leave of absence from work to attend the wedding of Miss Ella Stutsman. After the wedding, he went to his Alma Mater at Jacksonville, Ill., to see the Field Day exercises, and came from there to St. Louis to enjoy the Gallaudet Union Picnic.

The next important event among the deaf of this vicinity is the St. Louis Deaf-Mute Club's Picnic, which will take place, Saturday, June 21st, at Chautauqua, a summer resort on the Mississippi.

C. W. H.

For the eighth time in succession, the Rev. Austin W. Mann preached the Baccalaureate Sermon at the Ohio Institution, on June 8th, at 2:30 P.M. At 10:30 A.M., a service of the Holy Communion was held at Trinity Church, in the Chapel.

Mr. Charles L. Lashbrooks, a deaf-mute, of Sandy Creek, N. Y., has just completed a cottage on the Sugar shore of Wigwam Cove. It is one of the finest cottages there, and cost nearly nine hundred dollars. He has done all the work on his cottage, and also made a sail boat. Mr. and Mrs. Lashbrooks anticipate many pleasant hours during the coming season.

ROCHESTER, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Stevens went to Syracuse, Saturday, to make a visit to Bert's parents. Bert returned Sunday night. His wife will remain in Syracuse for a week or so. It is rumored that Bert expects to work in Syracuse.

Mr. John Lineham, who has for several years been a boatman at hotels on the Manitou Beach Road, is very ill at St. Mary's Hospital. It is hoped he will get well soon.

Mr. Fred House, who is a wood-worker by trade and a member of the Black Gill Sporting Club, is very sick at his home in Avoca. Word just received state that he is in dangerous condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wackerman have sent out invitations to their friends, for June 30th, to help them celebrate the fifth anniversary of their marriage. A swell time is promised.

Mrs. Angelica Hart, wife of Rev. Ed. R. Hart, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal Church, and a former teacher of the Rochester School for the Deaf, died Sunday evening, June 8th. She became the wife of Rev. Mr. Hart only a few months ago, and was greatly beloved by the members of St. Mark's parish and the deaf-mutes of this city. She will be missed, as she was a lovely Christian woman. Her funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon.

The Rochester School closed last Friday for the Summer.

Arrangements for the parade in connection with the dedication of the Spanish War trophy gun, Saturday, are being completed rapidly. The parade will be one of the largest of its kind ever held in this city, and will be representative of most of the uniformed organizations of Rochester. The 1st and 8th Separate Companies and the Naval Reserves will be the escort proper and head the parade, followed by the members of the G. A. R., who will be the honorary escort, and will be headed by a band. The parade will march from Main Street, to South Avenue, to Mt. Hope Avenue, to Highland Park, where the Spanish trophy will be unveiled.

The members of the Black Gill Club held their regular monthly meeting Saturday night. They have bought a pleasant and suitable lot for a club house at Point Pleasant, where ground has just been broken, and next week the club house, for which they have worked faithfully these many days, will be under way.

It has been hinted that the organization would prove a failure. Now you see it is not. The boys worked hard for the club house, and now the boys are going to work hard to make the club a permanent organization.

Mrs. Geo. Davis is going to Buffalo to visit her parents and relatives next week, and may be gone for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Colgan have gone home to Binghamton.

Miss Florence Hill, of Canada, came to this city to live. She resides on Warwick Avenue. TIP.

TROY, N. Y.

George Kihm, who is playing ball on the Indianapolis team, has been heard from through the press. George is putting up a fast article of ball for that club of the Outlaw League, and accepted all the chances during the contest.

Many a young deaf-mute "fan" here with a glint moisture on his eyes feels Kihm's absence from clean collarland keenly.

Lester Rosson, who has signed to pitch for the Albany Club, is expected in the Capital City from Washington, D. C., this month.

J. Henry Caton seemed to enjoy the freedom of the city at the expense of several deaf-mutes at whose houses he and guide stopped recently.

Mr. George Lucas Reynolds, of Brooklyn, N. Y., has promised to be in Troy in August if the "future" permits it. Then he can have the privilege of the floor, for he is no coward (?).

About ten couples of deaf-mutes contemplate taking a trolley ride to John R. Becker's house Sunday morning, June 29th. The car leaves Franklin Square, Troy, at 2:50 P.M., and reaches the destination one hour later.

John R. Becker stopped over here to see the writer on his way to New York to attend the Commencement at Fanwood, June 10th, and returned the next day.

Miss N. Joyce invited friends to a tea party in honor of her guest, Mrs. Mea Connerton, before the latter returned home recently.

TWO PARTIES AND A WEDDING.

Rev. Dr. Gallaudet Baptizes Three Deaf-Mutes.

News items for this column should be sent direct to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, Station M, New York.

A few words of information in a letter or on a postal card is sufficient. We will do the rest.

Had it not been for Jupiter Pluvius, there is no telling how many would have attended the Strawberry Festival of the Brooklyn Guild, on Wednesday, June 11th. For a June day, nothing worse in the way of chilly disagreeableness could be imagined. The rain came down in torrents and the wind howled and whistled through the trolley wires. Notwithstanding all this, there were between sixty and seventy who passed the urbane Mr. Greis at the door on presentation of the necessary pasteboard, which, like lost child in the story book, had a strawberry mark on the left shoulder.

It was verging on the hour of nine when Mr. John Wilkinson, in our own sign language and with Delsarteian grace, announced to the assemblage that there would be a double treat during the evening, and that the feast of reason and the flow of soul would this time precede the dainty feast that later on would be served by dainty hands. He then relinquished the office of Chairman to President Juhring, whose terse speech, delivered in his well-known serious manner, received the earnest attention of all.

Rev. Dr. Chamberlain was then called upon. He said he had not come prepared to make an address, and the demand of President Juhring was a surprise; but by the way he talked, one is constrained to believe that it was not the first time Dr. Chamberlain had faced a silent audience.

Mrs. Ella L. Turner, attired in a dreamy creation of baby-blue, recited most charmingly "The Spinning Wheel Song," and was greeted with rapturous applause, which she modestly acknowledged, her face the while being wreathed in rosy blushes.

Mr. E. A. Hodgson followed with a few remarks upon the influence of woman in fostering the charitable impulse of man. He traced the work of the gentler sex from the feudal times and the days of chivalry up to the present day. He told how he had first entered the social life of the deaf, in those far, ancient days when the down upon his upper lip foretold his coming manhood. All this early experience had been in Brooklyn, and all his memories of Brooklyn people were intermingled with the most pleasant associations.

Mr. Frank M. Senior came briskly forward at the President's call, and made an address that was thoroughly Brooklynish from start to finish. He contrasted the people of Manhattan with his own, much to the disadvantage of the former, and gave it as his firm and unshaken belief, that the Brooklyn ladies were the fairest, the gentlemen the most gallant, and the people in general the most hospitable and charitable on the hemisphere.

Mrs. Mollie H. Kidd recited "The Jester's Sermon" in her own peculiar and humorous way, and interspersed it with some comical and imaginary creations of her own brain. She proved to be the mirth-provoking feature of the evening, and put all in the best of humor.

And now the luscious strawberry and the refreshing ice-cream! Down to the room below all took their course, and in a few minutes, everyone was enjoying the delicious spread, served and sweetened by Mrs. Ella Turner, Mrs. H. L. Juhring, Mrs. McLaren, Mrs. H. Kidd, Mrs. Sadie Lounsbury, and Misses Butler and Bannan, with a couple of gentlemen to hand around the cake.

Conversation was incessant till the time for parting arrived, which was all too soon. And so passes into history another delightful social function under the auspices of the Brooklyn Guild of Deaf-Mutes.

Friday, June thirteenth, marked the occasion of the strawberry sociable given by the Society of Deaf Members of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church, in aid of Mrs. Annetta T. Mills' School for the Deaf, in China. The handsome parlor was comfortably filled, and the affair was a sociable in the true sense of the word, everything being most admirably managed. Chairman Hummer and Benjamin Shinn, were on hand early to look after the tickets, while Vice-Chairman Dickerson had the pleasant duty of making all the guests feel at home. Archibald McL. Baxter and his assistants on the Reception Committee met every comer with a hearty hand grasp, and indeed each member was a host in himself. It was an animating sight upon entering the room to behold small tables tastefully arranged and set with such games as Krinkoline, Parchessi, Checkers, Chess, Halma, Fishing Pond, etc., which were brought up from the Boy's Club Room and Gymnasium downstairs. All of these games were played to a finish over and over again. In the alcove off the parlor, Ping Pong was set out, and proved popular. Also, in this room were hung over the fire-place some seventy views of the Chinese school and other places of interest in Chefoo, kindly loaned to the Society by Dr. Westervelt, of the Rochester Institution. They were very interesting, and afforded one a better idea of the school in the Orient. Many a kind word was heard during the evening about Mrs. Mills' heroic struggle. The word American takes on a higher and nobler meaning when one comes in touch with such a work, even in pictures.

A contest that created merriment was the passing of clothes-pins, some forty boys and girls being ranged in two rows facing each other, each passing the pins from one end to the other. Both happened to take the last pin simultaneously, producing the greatest excitement, the ladies barely winning, which provoked this statement from one of the boys (sour grapes) that the women won from familiar handling of the pins!

Another feature was Mrs. Ella F. Turner's rendition in signs of Whittier's "Maud Muller," who "on a summer's day raked the meadow sweet with hay," evoking admiration and well-deserved applause. At the expressed wish of some of the members Miss Deborah Marshall, who happened to be present, gracefully consented to give "Yankee Doodle," and the same stirred up a patriotic response from the whole assemblage with energetic hand-clapping.

A movement in the direction of the kitchen now indicated that the hour had come to do homage to the luscious berry. Graceful and winsome young ladies served the guests with a bountiful supply of strawberries, ice cream and cake, effectively assisted by the debnaire gentlemen of the church.

The refreshments over, a basket and placard were shown with the following words:

Straw-Berry Sociable
We've had the B-rry
Now we'll take the Straw
To remember the occasion.

The basket contained bunches of straws tied with pink ribbon, and strips of paper containing different quotations pinned thereon. These were distributed.

When the entertainment broke up at ten-thirty, a furious thunderstorm was raging outside. Some ran between the drops to the trolley cars near by, some lingered until it abated, while the fortunate ones went home in cabs. Dr. Johnston was present and expressed great pleasure at the outcome of this festive occasion for a worthy cause.

Sunday, July 15th, was the birthday anniversary of Mrs. A. W. Henning, and her husband arranged to have a number of their friends to come and help celebrate the day with her at her home in Morrisania. This party proved to be a jovial one, and a very enjoyable time was passed. The rooms were tastefully decorated with flowers and, at 6:30 o'clock, a bountiful repast was served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Henning, Mr. and Mrs. Konzelmann and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hockstahl, Mrs. G. Fersenheim, Mrs. L. Isgen, Mrs. A. T. Henning, Misses Clara Henning, Alma Isgen, Mary Reed, Lizzie Weeks, Lizzie Zink, Margaret Hogan, Sophie Oehler, and Messrs. H. Schuermann, I. Oppenheimer, Ralph Isgen, Wm. Ehret, Louis Isgen and R. E. Maynard.

A very pleasant social party was tendered by Mr. and Mrs. Max Miller to their friends, at their residence, Friday evening last. The weather of that evening was hot. Although the Miller's are living six flights up there wasn't a bit of breeze there to cool us until thunderstorms broke in and then we felt some relief. Then everyone began to make the evening a very enjoyable one. Dancing, games and conversation, were indulged in. Delicious refreshments were served on a broad table amid flowers prepared for the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Miller were heartily thanked, and at the same time both deserve credit for making the evening a very pleasant one by their assistance. On going home every one assured them that they enjoyed themselves very much. Flashlight photos were taken by Mr. Hirsch, which we hope will be successful. Fully twenty persons, both deaf and hearing, were there.

Rev. Dr. Gallaudet conducted a part of the afternoon service at St. Ann's Church for Deaf-Mutes on Sunday last. He also baptized three deaf-mutes—Gertrude Turner, Alice Esmeralda Judge, and Edward Rappolt. After the christening, at which his daughter, Miss Virginia B. Gallaudet, stood sponsor for each of the trio, he was obliged to retire. There was a fair-sized congregation, despite the oppressive heat. Mr. John H. Keiser assisted Rev. Dr. Gallaudet, and also preached the sermon. A pleasing innovation was the rendering of a hymn, in concerted signs, by Misses Judge, Turner, Elsworth and Bensinger.

The Board meeting of the American Association to Promote the Teaching of Speech to the Deaf, held a conference at the Lexington Avenue School last week. Principal Croner and Prof. Booth, of Philadelphia, Principal Westervelt, of Rochester, Prof. Clarke, of the New York Institution, and Principal Gruver and his corps of teachers were present. The Summer meeting aboard a St. Lawrence River steamer was given up, and an amendment to the Constitution, providing for three classes of directors, numbering seven in each class, was made.

John R. Becker, of North Easton, N. Y., greeted many of his whilom friends in the Borough of Manhattan last week. He is a prosperous farmer, but unlike the Reuben of the newspapers, he has no hayseed in his whiskers—in fact, he has not even the whiskers—so he was not tempted by any of our enterprising citizens to buy a gold brick. John is the same cheery, good-natured young man of a decade ago, and all his friends at Fanwood and in the city proper were glad to see him.

Last Sunday, at 5:30 P.M., Mr. Simon Kahn and Miss Hattie Krone, were married by Rabbi Dr. Taubenhau; about twenty-five persons (all relatives, except their three deaf-mute friends, Misses Esther Freedman and Esther Epstein, and Mr. Emil Basch) were present at the wedding ceremonies. The menu was splendid. The presents the newly married couple received were numerous, beautiful and expensive. We wish them good luck and happiness.

The home of Mrs. Ekardt was vacated during the past week. The boys, John and Philip, went to the State camp at Peekskill, with the Twelfth Regiment, in whose drum corps they are the leading fifers. Mrs. Ekardt and her daughter spent the week with Mrs. Wm. C. Flanagan in her beautiful home at Rockville Centre, L. I. As well as deriving great physical benefit, they had a most delightful time. Miss Ekardt expects to stay all summer.

The Saturday half holiday proved beneficial to baseball enthusiasts in this vicinity, and many went to see the New York-Cincinnati game at the Polo Grounds. Among those seen on the grounds were Messrs. Frank Brown, A. C. Bachrach, H. Kohlman, M. Tiernan, W. Hanson, R. E. Maynard and William Scott Bartlett Abrams.

A reckless milk-wagon driver nearly ended the earthly career of Mrs. Lutz, about ten days ago. She was knocked down by the wagon and had her side bruised and leg injured so that she is quite lame. No bones were broken, consequently her lameness is only temporary.

Mrs. Evans, of Brooklyn, is mourning the loss of a sister by death. Her only remaining brother and sister are also quite sick, and in the case of the latter the chances of recovery are slight.

Frank J. Wood, of Pawtucket, R. I., and Chester Isbell, of Danielson, Ct., came to New York last week, for the express purpose of seeing the closing exercises at their Alma Mater—Fanwood.

Mrs. S. W. McClelland and her daughter, of Mountain View, N. J., was in the city last week, and attended the Commencement at Fanwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Heyman leave town this week for a three-months' stay in the Catskill Mountains, where they will occupy a cottage that has been engaged for the entire season.

Mrs. Rachel Coakley has gone to New Haven, Ct., to remain a couple of weeks. She expects to make a short visit in Middletown before returning to New York.

Mrs. Neiser is now employed as a domestic for Miss S. C. Howard, in East Orange, N. J.

Who Can Solve It?

EDITOR THE DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL.—Here is a puzzle. Ruby Rice's own sign for "mother" is twisting her back hair, as though putting it up. This I am told, is not the sign used by the deaf. Yet I gave it to Katie McGirr, and Dora Hopper yesterday, explaining that Ruby used "this sign"—not saying what for—and both exclaimed "Mother!" Now how did they come to recognize it?

Yours truly,
W. WADE.

The Gallaudet Club Meeting.

A LETTER OF THANKS.

Resolutions Sent to Trenton.

News items for this column should be sent to James S. Reider, 1538 Dover Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The Gallaudet Club held its June quarterly meeting at the home of Mr. Thomas Breen, on Tuesday evening, June 10th. There were but three absentees. President Davidson occupied the chair. Every one seemed in good humor, and the business that came up was despatched with a celerity that would put our national law makers to shame. It may be that the clubmen were quickened in their work by the promiscuous odor, which came from the direction of the dining-room and, happily, was of an agreeable kind.

So it was that, before all work was finished, one of the Gallaudites, who is also a noted Epicure, contrived to discard the old adage, "business first; pleasure next," and moved to take a recess. In justice to this clubman, let it be known that his motion did not state where the recess should be spent but it chanced to be the dining-room, whither he meant it or not. Here was goodness personified. Indeed, Madame Breen did herself proud, and fully deserved all the felicitations that were voted her jointly and individually. The genial host of the Club must also be mentioned, and his part consisted in treating, "à la Bohemia." Having satisfied the inner man and thanked the host and hostess for their hospitality, the only business that remained was to leave the Breen household to its accustomed peace, which was done.

The next meeting of the Club will be held in September 20th. The place is not announced yet, but a certain member has bid for the meeting, and it will most likely be held at his home.

The following letter has been received:

112 WEST 78TH STREET,
N. Y. June 3d 1902.

THE REV. J. M. KOEHLER, MRS. MARGARET J. SYLE, MR. JAMES S. REIDER,
Representatives of All Souls' Church for the Deaf, Philadelphia.

DEAR FRIENDS:—Please accept my heartfelt thanks for your kind letter. I have always been devoutly thankful for what has been accomplished by church workers among deaf-mutes in Philadelphia. All Souls' has, in many respects, been an example to us in New York. I trust we are growing in the right direction, though we have some drawbacks. Under the present arrangement, the support of St. Ann's is, humanly speaking, assured for all the time. I trust the Parish Building will, ere long, appear.

Let the congregations of All Souls' and St. Ann's pray for each other, and all will be well for the dear Saviour's sake. God bless you and all associated with you. Additional thanks for beautiful flowers just received from friends in All Souls' Church.

With best wishes and love from our family to each one of yours.

I am yours affectionately,

THOMAS GALLAUDET.

The above is in response to the letter of congratulation sent to Rev. Dr. Gallaudet by his Philadelphia friends on the occasion of his eightieth birthday, which was published in a recent issue of the JOURNAL. As a further mark of love and respect, flowers were sent. Mr. Washington Houston was selected by Pastor Koehler to receive contributions, and he collected more than was needed. It has been decided to use the left-over money as the nucleus for a fund with which to enable All Souls' Parish to make St. Ann's Church a gift when it is sufficiently large.

The June quarterly business meeting of the Clero Literary Association was held last Thursday evening, 12th. Among the new business transacted was the adoption of the following resolutions, which were offered by Mr. Henry R. Smith and read by Mr. Sanders.

"An excursion to Trenton, N. J., having been given under the auspices of the Clero Literary Association at last Memorial Day, and visiting the New Jersey School for the Deaf, while the deaf of the State were assembled in convention there, a hearty welcome was extended to our thanks to the New Jersey deaf and the Superintendent of the School, and, having been most hospitably entertained by the Superintendent and his household during the day, we now desire to have placed upon record our great appreciation of and gratitude for these courtesies;" therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Association hereby acknowledges the cordiality accorded its members and friends, as above stated, and expresses its sincere gratitude for the same; and,

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to Prof. John P. Walker, Superintendent of the New Jersey School for the Deaf, whom we would also respectfully request to convey our thanks to all the members of his household who deserve to be remembered in connection with our memorable visit.

Mr. S. G. Davidson and family were among the first of the Mt. Airy School to leave the city for the summer on Saturday morning. After visiting relatives a couple of days in New Jersey, they will go among the hills of New Hampshire.

A strawberry festival was given in aid of All Souls' Church, at the church, on Saturday evening, 14th. Notwithstanding that the weather appeared threatening, there was a large attendance, so that no one was more pleased than the committee of earnest ladies in charge of it—Miss Susan McKee, Mrs. G. T. Sanders and Mrs. M. J. Syle. Mr. Howard E. Arnold donated the tickets, which were very handsomely gotten up. Mr. Sanders introduced some simple but amusing games. For solving a puzzle game quickest, William McIntyre won a beautiful framed picture of Pharoah's Horses. Altogether a pleasant and enjoyable evening was spent, all being treated to ice cream, cake and the delicious berry. It is probable that the profit will be over twenty-five dollars.

Joseph W. Lipsett, only brother of our William H., died on June 9th, after a lingering illness, aged fifty-two years. He was well-known to a number of deaf. Mr. Lipsett has our sincere sympathy in his sad bereavement.

The deaf-mutes' or Apollo team played the Frankford Waverly team, on Saturday last, and were defeated by the score of 14 to 10. The Apollos will play a Bridesburg team in Holmesburg next Saturday afternoon.

Chas. S. Yoder came up from Ocean City, N. J., for a short visit to his home folks, and appeared at the strawberry festival.

Allentown, Pa.

The usual monthly social of the Allentown Guild was held Saturday, May 31st, at the home of Miss Katie Schmoeyer. The evening was very pleasantly spent in telling funny stories. Before the fun began, Mr. Corey Allen offered a quarter to the one telling the funniest story. The judges were Mrs. Bradbury, Mrs. H. Fernekees and Miss Schmoeyer, and they picked out Oliver Krause as the funniest story teller, and the money was given to him, but he at once donated it to the mission fund. Mr. Aaron Buchter, a visitor here from Lebanon, offered another quarter for the next funniest story and being the judge himself. The prize was awarded to Corey Allen, who a moment ago gave a quarter away, but he, too, kindly turned it over to the mission fund. The next social will be held at the Fernekees, June 28th, when we will arrange for our coming picnic and a festival too.

Mrs. Lillie A. De Long, of Lebanon, was a welcome visitor here. She was the guest of Mrs. Bradbury, and took in the Ordination of Rev. F. C. Snielau, at South Bethlehem, June 1st. The writer was unable to be present which he had a desire.

Mr. Harry Fernekees has quit at the brick yards, and has secured employment in the spool factory, where Mr. Allen works, and is well pleased with the result. The Superintendent of the factory is well pleased with the work of the deaf-mutes and would like to have more deaf hands.

Sunday, a week ago, Mr. and Mrs. H. Fernekees, W. Fernekees and mother, were in Kutztown, and visited their old next door neighbor Mr. and Mrs. Long, who moved from Allentown to Kutztown several months ago.

The Easton Deaf-Mutes Guild will have their ice cream festival on the twenty first of this month.

A number of our people took in the Forepaugh and Sells show last month, and enjoyed it extremely, especially the daring feat of "Looping the loop" by Diavolo.

Mrs. Chas. Bradbury and daughter Marion were in Slatington, two Sundays ago, and called upon Miss Annie Hall. With the latter, they went further up the Valley, and gave Mr. and Mrs. Anthony a pleasant call at the Lower Lehigh Gap Hotel.

Mr. Corey Allen spent a few days with his wife in Tunkhannock, Pa., two weeks ago. His wife was sick, but has improved somewhat since.

Mrs. Isaac R. Carney, of Easton, spent a few days with her brother here last week, and returned home last Friday.

Milwaukee, Wis.

The Lutheran deaf-mutes of this city are going to hold their Church Picnic on Sunday afternoon and evening, July 20th, 1902, on 13th Street, between Fond Du Lac Ave. and Wine Street. The admission to the Park is fifteen cents, children under 12 years, accompanied by their parents, free. The tickets are selling very fast. A very good time is promised to all those who attend. Games will be played, and refreshments served. Those who attend will be repaid for their trouble, and will want to come again to the next picnic.

The Lutheran deaf-mutes have their own church on Milwaukee Avenue, between 17th and 18th Street. Rev. T. Wangerin is their pastor, and his sermons are always very interesting.

Closing Scenes at the School.

Brevities.

[News items for this column may be sent to our Ohio News Bureau, care of Mr. A. B. Greener, 993 Franklin Ave., Columbus, O.]

School's out. The five hundred and thirty children, who pegged away at books the past nine months, have cast them aside for a spell, and they, the children, scattered over the broad domains of Ohio, are safe with their parents and friends to recuperate for a season. Tuesday noon, the curtain fell upon the term of 1901-'02. In the afternoon, baggage wagons drove up to the boys and girls' recreation halls, and carted off to the depot big loads of trunks and telescopes. The afternoon was spent by pupils socially. Quite a number of the boys went to the ball park to witness the Columbus-Indianapolis game, the chief interest of course being Kihm with the latter club. The next morning pupils were awakened at 3:30, but that was hardly necessary as most of them were up long before that time. Breakfast was had at four and 5:30, the first batch of pupils left the city over the C. H. V. & T. R. R. Others followed soon after, and, by 11:40, most all were on the roads, destined for home, sweet home, and according to reports received by Superintendent Jones all reached their homes without a mishap.

Rev. A. W. Mann preached the Baccalaureate Sermon to the class Sunday afternoon, during which he gave the members some good advice to follow. He held a service in Trinity Church during the morning for the city deaf.

The last Sunday of the term generally brings to the Institution a large number of the deaf, and this last Sunday was no exception to the rule. From Cincinnati comes Messrs. O'Brien, John Kraus, Lewis Felix and Harry O'Donnell. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wornstaf were down from Ashley; John Sarber, from Canal Winchester; Eugene White and Miss Annie Brenner were from Zanesville; Frank Steingraber and William Gracey, from Fostoria. There were several others whose names we could not learn.

Mr. Gracey is a recent addition to Uncle Sam's domains, having come over from Ireland last October. There he owned a farm, which he has sold, and proposes to end his days here in the "land of the Free and the home of the Brave," for he likes this country, and better still Ohio. He is well acquainted with Mr. Francis Magin, who, some years ago, came across the "big pond" to attend Gallaudet College, and now has charge of a mission. Mr. Gracey was a reader of the JOURNAL in Ireland, and, since coming to Ohio, has had his old friend come to him weekly. He was really glad to meet the writer of the Ohio JOURNAL letters. Of the Ohio Institution he said it was a very fine one, and, as to its size, it was beyond his expectation. He hopes to come down later in the year, and visit the place when school is in working order. Mr. Gracey is taking life easy, assisting his brother, who owns and runs a hookery in factories.

Cleonian Society had its annual literary exercises Saturday evening. Report of the officers were read. Mr. Clarence Hayman gave the valedictory address and was responded to by Chas. Blackburn. At the close of the exercises, an adjournment was taken to the B Hall, where the evening was spent socially. Refreshments were sold, and the proceeds will go to Cleonian's fund set apart for the Home.

We are informed by Mr. A. H. Schory that the sum of $385 has been collected for the Porch Fund thus far. A little more would still be helpful. The plans of the porch are drawn, and the matter of building the structure is under consideration. Just now, it is difficult to obtain carpenters. The windmill for the new well is on the grounds, and before this letter is in print, it will be doing its work pumping water for all need use.

Some of the out-of-town visiting deaf and a number of ex-pupils, residing in the city, attended the Columbus-Indianapolis ball game, Sunday afternoon, to see Kihm play. The first time Kihm came to the bat, he was presented with a fine floral bouquet by his deaf admirers. He raised his bat in acknowledgment of the gift followed by the sign, "thank you," and then the first good ball that came along, he sent it back far enough for a base hit. During the rest of the game, he made two more base hits, while his club also came out victors.

Misses Emma Bard and Annie Hewitt visited Findlay, last week, and were the guests of friends there.

Miss Katie Harrison will return to-morrow from a two-weeks' stay at her home and with friends in Northern Ohio.

The present week saw the addition of a number of new machines in the bindery, and, hereafter, work will be done with more dispatch and less laboriously. The new additions are two duplex trimmers, a balanced platen standing press, an automatic knife grinder, an automatic bundle binder, and a new smashing machine yet to come. There has been some shifting of machinery in the east room caused by the addition. By the way, Mr. George C. Schmeltz is still there.

He came when the establishment was first started in 1868 or 1869, and is now Superintendent. Miss Mary Winans also came then as a folder, and has charge of the folding force now, and has had for a number of years. Mr. Thomas Lilley, son of Captain M. C. Lilley, who was the first Superintendent of an bindery, still rounds and encases books. Mr. John A. Lynn has run the trimmers and sharpened their knives for twenty-seven years, besides being general utility man, and seems good for twenty-five years more. Mr. Ed. King has been there a long while, too, and now does all the fine rulings required by the State departments for their ledgers and blanks. There are other deaf and hearing people employed there, but they belong to another generation. Those we have mentioned, came in with the opening of the main building of the Institution.

Miss Bridget McNally and Miss Ida Hubbard, both of whom quitted school at the end of this term, have been given positions as folders in the bindery.

There was talk, some time ago, of the deaf of Springfield and Columbus combining, and hold a picnic, on July 4th, at the former city. However, the matter is off now, as there are greater attractions on that date here in Columbus, the Elks' Carnival, which, the Columbus deaf think, is too good to lose.

Miss Bertha Gildersleeve Patterson, normal fellow at Gallaudet College, arrived home this morning for the vacation, and this evening Miss Gussie Greener, her sister normal fellow, will come in from Rhinelander, Wis., where she has been teaching a school since April 21st.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Atwood leave this evening for a couple of months' visit in Massachusetts and Connecticut, with relatives and friends. On the way they will stop for three days in Buffalo, N. Y., to visit places of interest.

Wilkes Barre, Pa.

On June 2d, at the Luzerne County Court House, a deaf-mute woman, Miss Patralina Ventland by name, sued Mr. Charles Micholowsky for wages due her for the amount of $133, for two years' work performed as a domestic. She used a sign language of her own, and it was necessary to swear a neighbor woman as interpreter. Miss Ventland signified the defendant by pointing to her left eye. To signify a month she made a small circle with her hand, and a long circle denoted a year. She had a sign for each day of the week, Sunday being designated by the sign of the cross. She testified that she went to work for Mr. Micholowsky two years ago as a servant, and by motions indicated that she did the washing, scrubbing, baking and cooking. At one point she referred to Mr. Micholowsky's wife, and to indicate that Mrs. Micholowsky was dead, she placed the finger of one hand on her right eye and the other over her heart, and then lay her head on her hands and closed her eyes. The woman became much excited at times and the interpreter, who spoke poor English, had much difficulty in making the woman's story plain to the jury. The case went to the jury late in the afternoon. The case was adjourned until the next morning.

On June 3d, the jury in the case of Miss Patralina Ventland vs. Charles Micholowsky, returned a verdict for the defendant.

It may seem funny, but nevertheless true, that the mine mule has struck in sympathy with the union coal miners. The mule is an intelligent animal and has shown its sympathy with organized labor by refusing to work with non-union men.

"Professor" has resumed work at the Brick Yard of Contractor John H. Schmitt.

Mr. H. Wirth left his place in the Brick Yard in April last on account of poor health.

Mrs. James Byron, of this city, is now at Philadelphia, visiting her sisters and brother. She will stay there for a month.

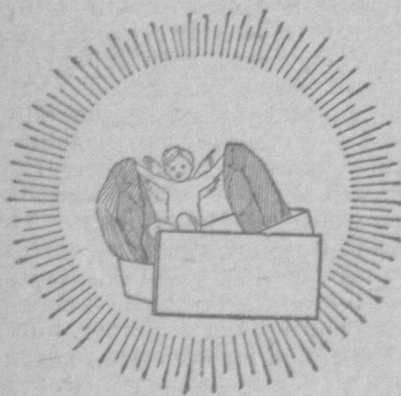

Mr. James Byron had not resumed work at the shoe factory, owing to the great mine strike.

THE REAL ESTATE OWNER

has the whole earth for a foundation to his fortune. Real Estate is the only permanent fortune. Real Estate, in a rapidly growing city, is a fortune that grows greater and greater all of the time and produces an income at the same time. Duluth is a rapidly growing city. The Howard Investment Company was incorporated in 1890, with an authorized capital of $500,000, to acquire improved real estate in Duluth. That is the only kind of real estate it owns or will own. Every investment made for the Company has the careful attention of its officers, who live in Duluth. The Company pays cash for all of its holdings. It has no indebtedness. By taking stock in the Howard Investment Company you are simply buying an interest in unencumbered improved real estate in Duluth, one of the most rapidly growing and promising cities in the United States.

Preferred Stock is $50 per share, 5 per cent is guaranteed on this stock.

Common Stock is $25 per share. It will pay at least 6 per cent. from the start.
